PREFACE

The current volume of JULIUS CAHN'S OFFICIAL THEATRICAL GUIDE is the tenth edition that has been offered to members of the dramatic profession and to travelling men. THE GUIDE is an accepted book of reference, gives definite information concerning theatres, newspapers, hotels and railroads in every city and town of any importance as an amusement centre, and is daily consulted as an authority by all managers and players throughout the United States and Canada.

As in each preceding volume, this issue has been elaborated, and surpasses its predecessors in detail and authenticity. An absolutely correct, national managers' directory of thirty-five hundred names, together with particulars from two hundred new houses, and a list of all the Summer Parks in the United States, has been incorporated in the tabulation, making the book, in its present condition, the most complete compendium of theatrical knowledge ever compiled.

On the first of every month, from September until May, a supplementary edition is published in pamphlet form, containing a thirty-day route of every important road company, and an editorial and general resume of the theatrical outlook. THE MONTHLY SUPPLEMENT is mailed FREE OF CHARGE, sufficiently in advance to admit of correspondence with companies two weeks before they reach your city.

The publisher offers his sincere thanks for the co-operation of advertisers, managers, subscribers, and members of the dramatic profession who have contributed in any way to the perfection of volume X.

If we toast an actor, actress or anyone, it is because they deserve it, not because they won't give us an advertisement for our paper. Fortunately, it is unnecessary for us to adopt these methods so popular with other theatrical publications, but the enormous circulation that we have is proof that our methods pay if you impress the public with your sincerity. We can say what we wish, so long as it is the truth, and no one can dictate to us what we shall publish because he is paying for it.

COPYRIGHT PROTECTION.

COMPILED BY LEVENTRITT & BRENNAN

320 Broadway, New York City.

The copyright law of the United States of America grants to an author or composer, providing the requirements of law are fully complied with, complete and absolute protection in his property rights in and to his writings.

Unauthorized productions of dramatic or musical compositions are punishable with sufficient severity to render unauthorized promulgation very rare.

The Congress of the United States are continually endeavoring to surround authors and composers with greater safeguards and protection. To that end, there was enacted at the last session of Congress just closed, a matter of great benefit and stimulus to foreign writers. Under the terms of this law, any author in a foreign country having international copyright agreements with the United States, who writes and publishes a book in any language except English, can obtain a year's option to copyright in this Country by depositing one copy of his book with the Librarian of Congress within 30 days after publication, at the same time filing a statement that it is for the purpose of taking out a copyright within one year if he desires. In order to complete the transaction he must within 12 months deposit 2 copies, the title and usual fee; this protects him so far as the publication of his work in this country is concerned.

The practical benefit of this recent enactment lies in the fact that an author or composer will have an opportunity for this length of time of finding out whether or not he desires to publish in English and attempt to enter the American market. Most authors are in the dark as to how their works will be received, and it takes some time to find out whether there will be any financial advantage in obtaining the American copyright for an English translation.

This privilege applies only to authors resident in England, France, Germany, Spain, Belgium, Italy, Cuba, Brazil, Honduras, China, Chili, Denmark and the Netherlands. The United States is not a member of the International Copyright League, but the enactment of this law on the part of Congress of this Country is an important step toward encouraging foreign authors by making it easier for them to obtain the privileges of the American copyright.

It is too early yet to appreciate the extent to which this new privilege will be used, because the new law has not yet become sufficiently well known abroad.

It is highly desirable that each application for copyright entry shall be so made that the law is strictly complied with, so that no question can arise as to the validity of the entry recorded. Also that the application shall be in such form that the Copyright Office can, upon its receipt, promptly make the entries desired, and thus avoid delay through the necessity for correspondence.

To aid in accomplishing this, the Copyright Office prepares an application form which should be used in all cases in accordance with the directions for filling it out, printed on page 4 of the blank. This form will be furnished upon request by the Register of Copyright, Washington, D. C.

The application must state the nature of the article for which the copyright is desired, i. e., whether it is a book, periodical, drama, musical composition, photograph or lithograph. The classes of articles named in the copyright statutes as entitled to copyright are printed on page four of the application blank, and no article can be registered which cannot be classed under one or the other designation used in the law to indicate the articles subject to copyright protection. Indefinite designations, such as "publication," "reproduction," "picture," "work of art," etc., should not be used. The term "design" and "model" should only be used to designate a distinctly artistic production. If the words of a song only are desired to be protected, the application should be made out for a "book"; if protection is desired for both words and music, application should be made for a "musical composition." Do not apply for entry of a "comedy," a "drama," or a "farce," or use any similar differentiating term, but in all cases use the statutory designation "dramatic composition."

When application is made for a book, lithograph, or photograph, it is necessary to state where the article is printed or made, or whether it is printed or made, or to be printed or made, in the United States.

It is not necessary to state the name of the author if it is desired to keep the book or other article anonymous, but the nationality of the author is required in order to determine the fee to be charged, and whether the article, in the case of a foreign work, is the production of a citizen of some country to the subjects of which country the privilege of copyright in the United States has been extended.

In the case of an author who is a native of a foreign country, but a legal or permanent resident of the United States, that fact should be stated, or the citizenship should be given as of the United States.

An entry of copyright claim cannot be made unless the application for such entry contains a distinct statement in whose name the claim of copyright is to be registered.

The application must distinctly state the full real name and address of the person who claims to be the proprietor of the copyright. No entry can be made in a fictitious name; such as a nome de plume or pseudonym. Not only does the law require that the real name of the copyright claimant shall be printed in the notice of copyright which it is obligatory to print upon each copy of any article copyrighted, but it also requires that the name of the copyright claimant shall be printed in the catalogue of copyright entries. If an author desires to preserve his anonymity, he should arrange to have some other person make the copyright entry in such person's name as "proprietor," under an agreement with himself as author. Entry can be made in the name of a firm, a corporation, or trustee, or in two or more names as joint authors or proprietors.

The blank should be filled up to state whether the copyright is claimed as author or as proprietor of the work whose title is recorded.

The first step to be taken in order to secure copyright protection, is the transmission of a printed copy of the title of the book or other article.

The copying of such title page into the record books of the Copyright Office becomes the recording of the claim of copyright. The requirements of the statute are definite, and it is incumbent that they shall be exactly complied with. If, therefore, no title is sent, no entry can be made.

Formal application for copyright should be made by filling up the application blank in accordance with the directions printed on page 4, and mailing it with the required fee addressed: The Librarian of Congress, Copyright Office, Library of Congress, Washington, D. C. The application should always be accompanied by a title page. The copyright law distinctly requires the filing of a "printed" title, and if a typewritten title is sent it is accepted at the risk of the sender. Written titles can not be accepted. Sending two copies of a book or other article is not a compliance with the requirement of the law that a title and two copies are to be sent, but three copies will serve, if such copies bear the printed title.

In the case of music, preferably the printed title cover of the music should be sent when this contains a complete title, with names of author of the words, and composer of the music.

Great care should be taken to send the required title or description for record before the publication or distribution of any copies of the article which it is desired to copyright. The law states explicitly that "No person shall be entitled to a copyright unless he shall, on or before the day of publication, in this or any foreign country, deliver at the office of the Librarian of Congress, or deposit in the mail within the United States, addressed to the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, District of Columbia, a printed copy of the title of the book, dramatic or musical composition, print, photograph, for which he desires a copyright.

In the case of works published in parts or volumes, the title of each part or volume should be recorded as if an independent work.

The author of any literary, musical, dramatic, or artistic work, who is a citizen of the United States or a subject of any country to whose citizens the United States has extended the benefits of copyright, is privileged to obtain copyright in the United States.

Any person to whom an author, who has the privilege of copyright in the United States, has transferred his copyright, can apply for and obtain copyright entry as a "proprietor." A translator, and the editor, compiler, dramatizer, or abridger of a work, may, under the copyright law, be considered as the author of the translation, the compilation, the dramatization, or the abridgment, and can apply for and obtain copyright registration.

The mere possession of a book, either in manuscript or printed form, does not of itself give the possessor the privilege of copyright registration.

The second step required to be taken to complete a copyright is the deposit of two copies of the article for which the title has been recorded. This should be made before the publication or distribution of any copies of the article.

Unless this deposit is made, a penalty of $25 is also incurred. When sending the copies, see that they are plainly marked with the distinguishing title of the article and the name and address of the sender. It is impossible to keep track of articles not bearing titles or other distinguishing marks in an office receiving more than two thousand articles each week. In any letter referring to an article sent for deposit, name or describe the article fully and exactly.

Manuscripts cannot be accepted as deposits to complete copyright, and should not be sent to the Copyright Office.

By special provision of Congress, all articles deposited in the Library of Congress, Copyright Office, to complete entries of copyright, are catalogued and the titles published in the weekly publication entitled "Catalogue of title entries of books and other articles entered in the office of the Register of Copyrights, Library of Congress, at Washington, D. C., under the copyright law, wherein the copyright has been completed by the deposit of two copies." In this publication are given: "The title of the article deposited; the name of the claimant of copyright; the date and entry number of the record of claim of copyright; the number and date of the deposit of the copies sent to complete the copyright."

This printed publication, therefore, is equivalent to a published receipt for copies deposited to complete copyright, and is the only form of receipt which the office is authorized by law to give; except that a certified receipt can be given upon payment of the legal fee of 50 cents and one uncanceled 10-cent internal revenue stamp.

If for special reasons, however, receipts for the deposit of copies are required, they can be given, provided a blank receipt form is properly filled out by the sender of the article, ready for dating and signing; and provided it is sent with the two copies of the article required by law to be delivered.

These blank receipt forms will be supplied on request, and they should be so fully and carefully filled out that no question of identity can arise; otherwise no receipt can be furnished.

The copyright fees prescribed by law are as follows: For recording each title of a book, or other article, the production of a citizen or resident of the United States, the charge is fifty (50) cents. If a certificate of copyright (i. e., a certificate of the entry of the title) is desired, there is an additional charge of fifty (50) cents, or $1 in all. When a certificate is ordered, there should also be sent one uncanceled 10-cent internal revenue stamp, to be canceled and attached thereto in the Copyright Office.

For recording each title of a book, or other work, the production of a person not a citizen or resident of the United States, the charge is $1. This fee of $1 is required to be paid for recording the title of every work whose original author or producer is "a person not a citizen or resident of the United States," whether the proprietor of the copyright is or is not a citizen or resident of the United States. A certificate of such record requires the payment of fifty (50) cents additional, or $1.50 in all. In this case, also, if a certificate is desired, one uncanceled 10-cent internal revenue stamp should be forwarded with the application.

For every copy under seal of the record of entry of any title, the charge is fifty (50) cents, and one uncanceled 10-cent internal revenue stamp.

For a certified receipt for the deposit of the two copies required by law, the charge is fifty (50) cents, and one uncanceled 10-cent internal revenue stamp.

For recording and certifying any instrument of writing for the assignment of a copyright, of ordinary length, the charge is $1; and for each copy of an assignment, $1; with, in each case, one uncanceled 10-cent internal revenue stamp.

Each and every certificate issued by the Copyright Office now requires to have attached to it a 10-cent internal revenue stamp. This stamp should, in all cases, be sent uncanceled, and should be pinned, not stuck, to the application or letter.

It is optional with the copyright applicant to pay the fee for a certificate at the time of entry of title.

A certificate of copyright is convenient prima facie evidence of copyright entry; but this document can be had in the form of a certified copy of record at any time subsequent to the registration of title.

Do not send any revenue stamps unless certificates are desired; and in no case should any postage stamps or stamped envelopes be sent for reply, as all Copyright Office mail is forwarded under a Government frank.

All remittances should be by money order or express order, payable to the Register of Copyrights.

No money (currency) should be placed in any package of books, music, or other matter sent to the Copyright Office, and all remitters are respectfully urged to take care to send an identifiable remittance. Postage stamps should not be sent as fees.

The act of March 3, 1891, provides, that "Authors or their assigns shall have exclusive right to dramatize and translate any of their works for which copyright shall have been obtained under the laws of the United States."

Translations authorized by the authors or proprietors of copyrigbted works, and translations of non-copyrighted books are subject to registration in the Copyright Office as original productions, and application for copyright registration should be made as for an original work.

Dramatic compositions should be applied for upon printed or typewritten titles, as in the case of other literary compositions. It has been the practice of the Copyright Office to receive and credit, at the responsibility of the claimant, two typewritten copies of a drama, but by a recent decision of the courts it is held that such deposit of typewritten copies is not a compliance with the copyright law. Under these circumstances the safer course to pursue is to file printed copies.

Here follow the Revised Statutes of the United States of America, concerning musical and dramatic compositions, as to obtaining the copyright and the rights which accrue under such copyrights:

SEC. 4952. The author, inventor, designer, or proprietor of any book, map, chart, dramatic or musical composition, engraving, cut, print, or photograph, or negative thereof, or of a painting, drawing, chromo, statue, statuary, and of models or designs intended to be perfected as works of the fine arts, and the executors, administrators, or assigns of any such person shall, upon complying with the provisions of this chapter, have the sole liberty of printing, reprinting, publishing, completing, copying, executing, finishing, and vending the same; AND IN THE CASE OF A DRAMATIC COMPOSITION, OF PUBLICLY PERFORMING OR REPRESENTING IT, OR CAUSING IT TO BE PERFORMED OR REPRESENTED BY OTHERS; AND AUTHORS OR THEIR ASSIGNS SHALL HAVE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO DRAMATIZE AND TRANSLATE ANY OF THEIR WORKS FOR WHICH COPYRIGHT SHALL HAVE BEEN OBTAINED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.

SEC. 4953. Copyrights shall be granted for the term of twenty-eight years from the time of recording the title thereof, in the manner hereinafter directed.

SEC. 4954. The author, inventor, or designer, if he be still living, or his widow or children, if he be dead, shall have the same exclusive right continued for the further term of fourteen years, upon recording the title of the work or description of the article so secured a second time, and complying with all other regulations in regard to original copyrights, within six months before the expiration of the first term; and such person shall, within two months from the date of said renewal, cause a copy of the record thereof to be published in one or more newspapers printed in the United States for the space of four weeks.

SEC. 4955. Copyrights shall be assignable in law, by an instrument of writing, and such assignment shall be recorded in the office of the Librarian of Congress within sixty days after its execution; IN DEFAULT OF WHICH IT SHALL BE VOID AS AGAINST ANY SUBSEQUENT PURCHASER OR MORTGAGEE FOR A VALUABLE CONSIDERATION, WITHOUT NOTICE.

SEC. 4956. No person shall be entitled to a copyright unless he shall, on or before the day of publication IN THIS OR ANY FOREIGN COUNTRY, deliver at the office of the Librarian of Congress, or deposit in the mail within the United States, addressed to the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, District of Columbia, A PRINTED COPY of the title of the BOOK, map, chart, DRAMATIC OR MUSICAL COMPOSITION, engraving, cut, print, photograph, or chromo, or a description of the painting, drawing, statue, statuary, or a model or design for a work of the fine arts, for which he desires a copyright, nor unless he shall also, NOT LATER THAN THE DAY OF THE PUBLICATION THEREOF IN THIS OR ANY FOREIGN COUNTRY, deliver at the office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, District of Columbia, two copies of such copyright book, map, chart, DRAMATIC OR MUSICAL COMPOSITION, engraving, chromo, cut, print, or photograph, or in case of a painting, drawing, statue, statuary, model, or design for a work of the fine arts, a photograph of the same: PROVIDED, That in the case of a book, photograph, chromo, or lithograph, THE TWO COPIES OF THE SAME REQUIRED TO BE DELIVERED OR DEPOSITED AS ABOVE SHALL BE PRINTED FROM TYPE SET WITHIN THE LIMITS OF THE UNITED STATES, or from plates made therefrom, or from negatives or drawings on stone made within the limits of the United States, or from transfers made therefrom. During the existence of such copyright the importation into the United States of any book, chromo, lithograph, or photograph so copyrighted, or any edition or editions thereof, or any plates of the same not made from type set, negatives, or drawings on stone made within the limits of the United States, shall be, and it is hereby prohibited, except in the cases specified in paragraphs five hundred and twelve to five hundred and sixteen, inclusive, in section two of the act entitled "An act to reduce the revenue and equalize the duties on imports, and for other purposes," approved October first, eighteen hundred and ninety; and except in the case of persons purchasing for use and not for sale, who import subject to the duty thereon, not more than two copies of such book at any one time; and except in the case of newspapers and magazines, not containing in whole or in part matter copyrighted under the provisions of this act, unauthorized by the author, which are hereby exempted from prohibition of importation; PROVIDED, NEVERTHELESS, That in the case of books in foreign languages, of which only translations in English are copyrighted the prohibition of importation shall apply only to the translation of the same, and the importation of the books in the original language shall be permitted.

SEC. 4957. The Librarian of Congress shall record the name of such copyright, book or other article, forthwith, in a book to be kept for that purpose, in the words following: "Library of Congress, to wit: Be it remembered that on the ....day of.....A. C. D., Librarian of Congress." And he shall give a copy of the title or description, under the seal of the Librarian of Congress, to the proprietor whenever he shall require it.

SEC. 4958. The Librarian of Congress shall receive from the persons to whom the services designated are rendered the following fees:

First—For recording the title or description of any copyright book or other article, fifty cents.

Second—For every copy under seal of such record actually given to the person claiming the copyright, or his assigns, fifty cents.

COPY OF CUSTOMS LAW TARIFF, PAR. 645.

Act July 24, 1897.

Regulations Art. 560 and 565.

Paragraph 645. Act of July 24, 1897. "Theatrical "scenery, properties and apparel bought by proprie- "tors or managers of theatrical exhibitions arriving "from abroad for temporary use by them in such "exhibitions, and not for sale, and which have been "used by them abroad, shall be admitted free of "duty under such regulations as the Secretary of "Treasury may prescribe; but bonds shall be given "for the payment to the United States of such duties "as may be imposed by law upon any and all such "articles as shall not be exported within six months "after such importation. Provided, That the Secre- "tary of the Treasury may, in his discretion, extend "such period for a further term of six months in "case application shall be made therefor."

Article 560, Treasury Regulations. "The following "regulations will hereafter govern the importation of "theatrical scenery, properties and apparel, under "paragraph 645, Act of July 24, 1897:

"The invoice filed with the entry of the articles "must describe them in such manner as to insure "their identification at the time of export, and the "values thereof must be duly set forth. Entries of "such merchandise will be made under the general "provisions of Article 565 of these regulations, with "the necessary modifications to meet the case.

"The exportation shall be on regular withdrawal, "and under Customs supervision.

"The bond account of such transactions shall be "kept separate and distinct from the ordinary ware- "house account. At the expiration of the bond it "shall be sent to the district attorney for collection, "unless the required proofs of exportation shall have "been furnished by the importer or consignee."

Article 565. "Entries of articles admitted free on "bond for temporary exhibition, including theatrical "scenery, properties and apparel, will be made on "the ordinary warehouse forms, modified to meet the "special conditions of the case, and a ledger account "will be kept of such bonds, showing the dates of "expiration and cancellation of each bond."

Before doing anything else, place yourself in communication with Hickie, Borman, Grant & Co., 14 Waterloo Place, who are representing Perry Ryer & Co., our Custom House Brokers. After Hickie, Borman, Grant & Co. make up the invoice this should be placed upon the household effect form of invoice. Each case should be numbered by successive numbers or letters, and stated so in the inventory. For instance, basket number one contains, here state itemized list of contents, with the value of each article. Go on through in that manner until all the baskets are filled. On the lid of each basket, inside, should be placed a tag giving the contents of that basket without the value being attached.

Great care must be taken that no goods contained in these baskets are new, as an affidavit must be made, which states that the goods have been worn in Europe.

There is absolute necessity to have the prices stated in the inventory to be correct.

The scenery must be also itemized. Also the properties, giving the value of each piece, and each piece of scenery should be also labelled with serial numbers.

After this entire invoice is made up by Hickie, Borman, Grant & Co., the invoice should be sent to the office of the United States Consul and certified to by him, and he will attach a Consular certificate.

Three extra copies of the invoice should also be made, but it is not necessary to have them certified to by the Consul, as one will have to be filed at the Custom House, one is wanted at our office, and one for the Custom House broker's purposes, so as to keep track of these things.

I think the scenery and effects would be safer to be shipped on the Atlantic Transport, as there would be less wear and tear, and the goods arriving on the Atlantic Transport seem to arrive here in better condition than over any other line.

As it is understood, a bond has to be given for all these goods of double the value of what these goods are worth, and they will be exported again at the end of the year. If any are missing, exporting duty has to be paid, and for that reason a careful check is made upon them.

In the event of any of the principal people bringing over costumes themselves, all they have to do is to bring them in their own personal baggage and make a declaration when they arrive that it is their own wearing apparel on the stage, and there will be no duty on that. In that event it is not necessary to have these articles on the inventory.

To facilitate the shipments from European ports to American ports, I would suggest on shipments from any English port to arrange the shipments through Messrs. Hickie, Borman, Grant & Co., 14 Waterloo Place, London, England. These are the Custom House brokers who are thoroughly conversant with the necessities required, who can consign the goods to Messrs. Perry Ryer & Co., 66 Beaver Street, New York, and the shipper can rest assured that everything will be properly attended to.

MEXICO

Mexico affords many allurements to the operatic, vaudeville or spectacular class of entertainment, as the natives liberally patronize performances that appeal to the eye or, in case of opera, to the ear, as they possess a remarkable musical liking and will respond in large numbers.

Every city owns one or more Spanish papers, with editors who will gladly translate English notices into the Spanish language.

The railroads make a rate of one to two cents a mile, according to class, as in Mexico the railroads carry three classes of passengers—first, second and third.

The duty on printing taken into Mexico is little or nothing. In some cases a small tax or nominal charge is levied.

Special mention should be made of the strict observance of rigidly adhering to showing every act or scene that is advertised in papers, boards or heralds, for every failure to produce as represented in billing is subject to a heavy fine or imprisonment. At every performance an official witnesses the performance to see that the performance lives up to the representations in advance.

The best time for a tour of Mexico is from November to March. The days are very warm, but the nights are cold and warm clothing is essential.

A duty is charged on all articles purchased in Mexico over $100 by any one person.

A return ticket can be purchased from San Antonio, Texas, to City of Mexico over the Nacional (narrow-gauge R. R.) Line to the City of Mexico and return to El Paso or any other Texas point, touching every important theatrical city in Mexico.

In touring Mexico it is advisable to carry a Spanish interpreter to avoid the many errors and imposition an ignorance of the language will necessitate.

The prices of admission in Mexico run from 25c. to $3.00.

The worth of Mexican money is at present 53c. on the dollar.
